Volume I Governance & Administration

1.1 Introduction

The information provided in this Volume I of the Lynn University Policy Manual outlines general administrative and governance information regarding Lynn University. Volume I has been developed so that general introductory information regarding the University as well as its principal governance documents and committee structure are available in one comprehensive document. The process for amending the Lynn University Policy Manual is as follows:

1.1.1 Policy and Procedure Development and Implementation Program

The University Policy and Procedure Development and Implementation Program, directed by General Counsel and the Office of Compliance, has been designed to ensure that policies and procedures are developed, approved, issued, and maintained in a consistent manner with the engagement of appropriate University stakeholders. This program makes policies and procedures widely available to the University community in order to enhance compliance and advancement of the University's mission.

The program allows for the design of new policies, amendments or alterations to existing policies, and for design and/or alteration of procedures to increase compliance with institutional policies. The University Policy and Procedure Development and Implementation program focuses on administrative policies with very little oversight of academic policies.

Definitions

University Policy—a University policy is a prudent governing principle derived from the mission and goals of the University, which is adopted and approved by the President of the University and the Board of Trustees. This definition encompasses only University-wide policies, which are distinguished from departmental policies and operating procedures. Only those policies approved in accord with this policy will have the force of University policy. In the event of a conflict between a University-wide policy and a department policy, the University-wide policy will supersede the department policy. University-wide policies include the following:

Administrative Policy—non-academic and non-faculty policies governing the operations of the University as published in Volumes I, II, III, V, VI and VII of the Lynn University Policy Manual.

Academic Policy—policies that directly affect the educational process and the academic programs of the University as published in the University catalogs.

Faculty Policy—those policies that affect basic academic personnel matters - principally faculty status, rights and responsibilities, rank, retention, evaluation, and faculty development - as published in Volume IV of the Lynn University Policy Manual.

University Procedures—statements that provide for orderly implementation of established university policies through specific, prescribed actions and are more detailed than a policy statement.

Issuing Authority—the University authority responsible for final approval of a University policy is the Board of Trustees or, as delegated by it, the President.

Responsible Officer—the University officer responsible for developing, coordinating, and maintaining a University policy.

I. Policy Development/Revision and Approval Process A.

Administrative Policies

1. New administrative policies will be developed by the designated “Responsible Party” in consultation with the Office of Compliance and other subject-matter experts or impacted offices and business units. The policy development process begins by submitting a “Request for New Policy” ticket to the Office of Compliance.
2. The designated member of the Office of Compliance will meet with the Responsible Party to discuss next steps. If development of a new policy is approved, the Responsible Party will be provided with the standard policy template and will be asked to submit an initial draft. The initial draft should be submitted to the Office of Compliance who will conduct additional edits and create a second policy draft.
3. If the proposed policy impacts any business process or university data element, the policy draft will be submitted to either the Data Governance Committee or the Compliance and Risk Managers Committee for review. During review from either committee, all impacted parties will be provided an opportunity to provide feedback and comment on the proposed policy. The goal of this stage of the development and review process is to ensure that any policy, if approved, can be followed effectively by all impacted parties. Additionally, it is at this stage that an assessment of the need for supporting procedures will be conducted.
4. Once a final draft has been completed, the draft will be submitted to the President’s Cabinet for review.
5. After approval by the President and, if applicable, the Board of Trustees, the policy will be posted and disseminated to the University community.

B. Academic and Faculty Policies

Proposed new University academic and faculty policies or proposed changes to existing University academic and faculty policies may be initiated by the Academic Council or one of its committees, the President’s Cabinet, the Dean’s Council, or any other appropriate University standing committee, as well as by the Vice President for Academic Affairs or the President. All University academic and faculty policies are reviewed by the Vice President for Academic Affairs and the Academic Council prior to final approval by the President and the Board of Trustees. Once approved, requests for publication to the University website and policy database should be submitted to the Office of Compliance.

Note: Changes to or adoption of a new curriculum must follow the procedures set forth in Volume V.

II. Review Cycles

The Responsible Officer is responsible for keeping the University Policy current and for the performance of periodic reviews to ensure that the policy complies with and reflects current laws, regulations, accreditation standards, and higher education best practices. No less than every three years, the Responsible Officer is to recommend to the Issuing Authority whether the College Policy should be reaffirmed without revision or amended or repealed as provided in this Policy. If the Issuing Authority concurs with a recommendation to reaffirm the policy, the reaffirmation date is to be noted on the College Policy. Depending on requested changes by applicable internal governing bodies, accreditation agencies, or as required by changes to governmental policy or legislation, review periods may be shortened.

III. Development and Approval of Department Policies

A department of the University may develop additional policies and procedures that pertain only to the affairs of the concerned department. Such policies do not substitute for University policies and procedures. All department specific policies and procedures must not be in conflict with established university policy and procedure. The area supervisor will communicate such policies to the appropriate President Cabinet member, who will in turn report the policy to the President's Cabinet for approval.

IV. Interim Policies

The President may put an interim policy into place in situations where a University policy must be established in a time period too short to permit the completion of the process delineated in this policy. The President shall inform the Board of Trustees immediately of the establishment of any interim policy.

V. Emergency Procedures

If any provision of the Lynn University Policy Manual is in conflict with a national, state, or local law or is otherwise illegal, invalid or unenforceable to any extent, the remainder of the Policy Manual and the application of the provision in question to persons or circumstances other than those to which the provision is improper, shall not be affected. In addition, the Board of Trustees shall act to bring the University into compliance with such law or invalidity, and the Lynn University Policy Manual will be amended as soon as possible, providing none of these laws are in conflict with the mission of the University.

VI. Related Procedures and Guidelines

Policies may be supplemented by procedures or guidelines that describe policy implementation practices, subject to the approval of the President or an authorized designee. These supplemental procedures may be referenced in, and/or linked from, the relevant policy, as appropriate.

VII. Reservation of Rights

Nothing in this policy limits or circumscribes in any way the power and authority of the Board of Trustees or the President to issue, amend, or revoke University policies or department policies at any time.

Only those University policies that are approved by the Board or a duly authorized committee of the Board, as authorized by the Bylaws of the Board of Trustees, can be applicable to the Board and/or its Trustees.

1.2 General Information Regarding the University

1.2.1 History of Lynn University

Lynn University is an independent college based in Boca Raton, Florida. It was founded in 1962 as Marymount College, a junior college for women. The college became coeducational in 1971 and changed its name to the College of Boca Raton in 1974, later expanding to offer bachelor's and master's degrees. It attained university status in 1991, at which time it renamed Lynn University in recognition of its major benefactors, Eugene M. and Christine E. Lynn. The University implemented its first doctoral program in 1998. In 2013, Lynn introduced one of the most extensive iPad programs in the country, and in 2015, it launched iLynn, iPad-powered learning that enables students to pursue their undergraduate degrees online, on campus or both.

1.2.2 Accreditations

Lynn University is accredited by the Commission on Colleges of the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools (SACSCOC) to award baccalaureate, master's, and doctoral degrees.

Lynn's vision is to be recognized as one of the most innovative, international, and individualized small universities in America.

(Approved by the Board of Trustees October 12, 2005)

1.3.3 Lynn 2020 Strategic Priorities

To fulfill this vision of Lynn University as a different kind of 21st-century university -- small, international, futuristic, and energetically student development-oriented -- serving a broader assembly of students with an uncommon portfolio of professional college programs, the University needs to make strategic changes in five domains.

1. Lynn will recast, partially restructure, and intensify the focus of its academic offerings.

2. The University will further improve the quality, geographical origins, and financial aid of its students, enlarge its graduate and continuing education enrollments, and enhances the accommodations and services for undergraduates especially.
3. The institution will continue to improve the salaries, governance opportunities, workloads, teaching skills, and office and classroom facilities of the faculty.
4. Lynn will complete the construction of its campus and provide for better technological and scientific equipment.
5. The University will establish a new culture of widespread fund-raising and grant solicitation.

Attendance of any member at any meeting of the Board shall be conclusively deemed a waiver of notice of that meeting unless objection is made at the outset of such meeting for the failure to give proper notice. A member of the Board may, however, waive notice of any meeting and, if permissible under the laws of the State of Florida, any action which may be taken by the Board at a meeting thereof, may be taken by means of all of the members of the Board signing a written consent to take such action in the manner provided for by the laws of the State of Florida.

However, a written consent setting forth the action so taken and signed by all members of the Board or of a committee, as the case may be, must be filed with the minutes of the proceedings of the Board or the committee.

Written consents may be executed in counterparts, each of which will constitute an original but all of which, when taken together, will constitute one and the same written consent. Delivery of an executed counterpart of a signature to a written consent by facsimile or other means of unalterable electronic transmission will be as effective as delivery of an original executed counterpart of a signature to such written consent.

Further, this Corporation will purchase and maintain appropriate errors and omissions insurance as the Board deems appropriate.

Article XIII

Conflicts of Interest

Section A - Purpose

The purpose of the conflicts of interest policy is to protect the Corporation's interest when it is contemplating entering into a transaction, arrangement, or decision that might benefit the private interest of an officer, member of senior management, or Trustee of the Corporation ("interested person"). This policy is intended to supplement but not replace any applicable state laws governing conflicts of interest applicable to nonprofit organizations. Anything to the contrary notwithstanding, the University shall not indemnify any willful, wanton, or criminal action.

Section B - Definitions

Conflict of Interest: A conflict of interest may take many forms, but arises when an interested person, in a relationship with an outside organization, person(s), or partnership, is in a position to influence the decision regarding the Corporation's business, research or in ways that could lead directly or indirectly to financial gain for the interested person or his or her family, or give improper advantage or others to the detriment of the Corporation.

Interested Person: Any officer, member of senior management, other Board designated member of management or member of a committee with Board delegated powers that has a direct or indirect financial or other interest, as defined below, is an interested person.

Financial Interest: A person has a financial interest if the person has, directly or indirectly, through business or investment:

1. An ownership or investment interest in any entity with which the Corporation has a transaction or arrangement; or
2. A compensation arrangement with the Corporation or with any entity or individual with which the Corporation has a transaction or arrangement; or
3. A potential ownership or investment interest in, or compensation arrangement with, any entity or individual with which the Corporation is negotiating a transaction or arrangement. Such potential interest would exclude an ownership or investment interest of < 1%, provided there are no other employment contracts or financial arrangements with the entity or individual.

Similarly, a person has a financial interest if a member of his or her family (which for purposes of this paragraph shall be a spouse, parents, siblings, children and any other relative if the latter reside in the same household as the individual), has directly or indirectly, through business or investment:

1. An ownership or investment interest in any entity with which the Corporation has a transaction or arrangement; or
2. A compensation arrangement with the Corporation or with any entity or individual with which the Corporation has a transaction or arrangement; or
3. A potential ownership or investment interest in, or compensation arrangement with, any entity or individual with which the Corporation is negotiating a transaction or arrangement. Such potential interest would exclude an ownership or investment interest of < 1%, provided there are no other employment contracts or financial arrangements with the entity or individual.

Compensation includes direct and indirect remuneration as well as gifts or favors that are substantial in nature.

A financial interest is not necessarily a conflict of interest. Under Article XIII, Section C a person who has a financial interest may have a conflict of interest only if the appropriate committee or Board of Trustees decides that a conflict of interest exists.

Section C - Conflict of Interest Procedures

- (a) Duty to Disclose: In connection with any actual or possible conflicts of interest, an interested person must disclose the existence of his or her financial or other interest and must be given the opportunity to disclose all material facts to the trustees and members of committees with board delegated powers considering the proposed transaction or arrangement.

(b) Determining Whether a Conflict of Interest Exists: After disclosure of the financial or other interest and all material facts, and after any discussion with the interested person, he/she shall leave the board or committee meeting while the determination of a conflict of interest is discussed and voted upon. The remaining trustees or committee members shall decide if a conflict of interest exists.

(c) Procedures for Addressing the Conflict of Interest:

1. An interested person may make a presentation at the board or committee meeting, but after such presentation, he/she shall leave the meeting during the discussion of, and the vote on, the transaction or arrangement that results in the conflict of interest.
2. The Chair of the board or committee shall, if appropriate, appoint a disinterested person or committee to investigate alternatives to the proposed transaction or arrangement.
3. After exercising due diligence, the board or committee shall determine whether the Corporation can obtain a more advantageous transaction or arrangement with reasonable efforts from a person or entity that would not give rise to a conflict of interest.
4. If a more advantageous transaction or arrangement is not reasonably attainable under circumstances that would not give rise to a conflict of interest, the board or committee shall determine by a majority vote of the disinterested trustees whether the transaction or arrangement is in the Corporation's best interest and for its own benefit and whether the transaction is fair and reasonable to the Corporation and shall make its decision as to whether to enter into the transaction or arrangement in conformity with such determination.

(d) Violations of the Conflicts of Interest Policy:

1. If the board or committee has reasonable cause to believe that a member has failed to disclose actual or possible conflicts of interest, it shall inform the member of the basis for such belief and afford the member an opportunity to explain the alleged failure to disclose.
2. If, after hearing the response of the member and making further investigation as may be warranted in the circumstances, the board or committee determines that the member has in fact failed to disclose an actual or possible conflict of interest, it shall take appropriate disciplinary and corrective action.

Section D - Records of Proceedings

The minutes of the board and all committee with board-delegated powers shall contain:

1. The names of the persons who disclosed or otherwise were found to have a financial or other interest in connection with an actual or possible conflict of interest, the nature of the interest, any action taken to determine whether a conflict of interest was present, and the board's or committee's decision as to whether a conflict of interest in fact existed.
2. The names of the persons who were present for discussions and votes relating to the transaction or arrangement, the content of the discussion, including any alternatives to the proposed transaction or arrangement, and a record of any votes taken in connection therewith.

Section E - Compensation

1. A voting member of the Board of Trustees who receives compensation, directly or indirectly, from the Corporation for services is precluded from voting on matters pertaining to that member's compensation.
2. A voting member of any committee whose jurisdiction includes compensation matters and who receives compensation, directly or indirectly, from the Corporation for services is precluded from voting on matters pertaining to that member's compensation.

Section F - Annual Statements

Each officer, member of senior management, other board designated member of management, trustee and member of a committee with board delegated powers shall annually sign a statement which affirms that such person:

1. Has received a copy of the Conflicts of Interest Policy;
2. Has received and understands the policy;
3. Has agreed to comply with the policy; and
4. Understands that the Corporation is a non-profit organization and that in order to maintain its federal tax exemption it must engage primarily in activities that accomplish one or more of its tax-exempt purposes.

Section G - Periodic Reviews

To ensure that the Corporation operates in a manner consistent with its tax-exempt purposes and that it does not engage in activities that could jeopardize its status as an organization exempt from federal income tax, periodic reviews shall be conducted. The periodic reviews shall, at a minimum, include determining whether compensation arrangements and benefits are reasonable in comparison to peer institutions.

Section H - Use of Outside Experts

In conducting the periodic reviews provided for an Article XIII, Section G the Corporation may, but need not, use outside advisors. If outside experts are used, their use shall not relieve the board of its responsibility for ensuring that periodic reviews are conducted.

Article XIV Discrimination Prohibited

In administering its affairs, the University shall not discriminate against any person on the basis of race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, sexual identity, gender, gender expression, or gender identity, age, national origin, ancestry, citizenship, disability, gender related status, pregnancy, genetic disposition, veteran or military status, marital status, familial status or any other legally protected characteristic in accordance with federal and Florida State law.

Audit committee has reviewed IRS for 990, a copy shall be made available to all Board members prior to the filing of form 990. Board members shall exercise their best efforts to review Form 990 in a timely manner.
